

ANOTHER AUTOMOBILE VICTIM

Count Eliot Zaborowski, an American, Killed While Climbing a Hill Near Nice While Racing in His Machine.

NICE, April 1.—Count Eliot Zaborowski, of New York, was killed today in an automobile hill-climbing race between here and La Turbie.

Count Zaborowski's car turned a sharp angle too quickly, turned over and was wrecked. The count was hurled against a rock, his head was split open and he died instantly. His chauffeur is believed to be mortally injured. The race was immediately stopped.

Countess Zaborowski was awaiting her husband at La Turbie, expecting they would lunch together at the end of the race.

The accident occurred at the spot where there was a similar fatality two years ago, when a German automobile was killed.

The course, which is fifteen kilometers long, is known as being most dangerous. It runs around sharp corners, along the cliffs of La Corniche (the name given to the road leading from Nice to Genoa). It was covered by last year's winner under seventeen minutes.

It developed later that Zaborowski's friend, Baron de Saxe, was acting as the former's chauffeur. The latter was also prominent in the social and automobile world. His wounds were at first believed to be fatal, but after the baron had been carried to a hospital and examined the surgeons did not pronounce his injuries necessarily mortal. The accident occurred during one of the trials along what is known as the Corniche stretch. Just at the moment the vehicle reached an abrupt angle the car struck a small rock in the path, causing a swerve which precipitated the two men against a wall. Zaborowski appears to have struck head first, as his skull was smashed in by the violence of the shock. Although the baron was also hurled against the wall, he did not strike on his head. Zaborowski, who expected to cover the course in fifteen minutes, had a machine weighing 1,000 pounds. He leaves a widow.

Baron de Pallage, who acted as chauffeur, died tonight of the injuries he received when thrown from the car.

Title Is Polish.

Des Moines, April 1.—Count William Eliot Zaborowski was a native of New York and a member of the well known Eliot family of Des Moines. He came by the name of Zaborowski and the title of count through a native of Poland who married his aunt. His uncle, having been banished from Poland, had located in New York, where he became wealthy through the purchase of property. When he died he left this all to his nephew, William Eliot, on the express condition that he assume his name and title. In 1891 he eloped with the Baroness de Steurs, wife of the minister from The Netherlands, to France. In South Dakota later the baroness secured a decree of divorce and married Eliot. The baroness is the daughter of the late Henry Carey of Boston and a granddaughter of John Jacob Astor. Both Eliot and the baroness were worth several million dollars in their own names.

Native of New York.

New York, April 1.—Eliot Zaborowski was born in this city. The family came to this country from Poland and became wealthy through real estate transactions. Eliot Zaborowski married the divorced wife of Baron de Steurs, one time Dutch minister to France. She is the daughter of James Carey of Sioux Falls, S. D., and a granddaughter of William B. Astor.

Devoted to Hunting.

London, April 1.—Count Zaborowski was an American. He lived in England for a number of years and was devoted to hunting at Melton Mowbray. In addition to entering the Nice automobile races this week, he was to have entered for the James Gordon Bennett international automobile cup, which is to be competed for in Ireland.

RAIDED GAMBLING DEN.

Police Break Up a Joint in Gladstone Rooming House.

The police last night swooped down upon a gambling joint in the Gladstone building and carried off as evidence all the paraphernalia in sight, including a roulette wheel, faro layout, cards, chips and everything that goes to make a complete gambling outfit. No games were in progress when the raid was entered the place, the players probably having taken alarm and fled. They had ample time to do so, as the raid was made to break through five doors and cross an air shaft to get to the room where the layout was found.

The police received a tip yesterday that gambling was carried on from a man who had lost $100 when the night before. In about that many minutes. The man, who refused to give his name, said that he was sure he had been hoodwinked and asked the police to investigate. Last night Chief Sheets, Captain Burbridge and Detective Finkbeiner, Chase, went to the Gladstone house and asked for the keys to the room, but were informed that the man who rented the room had them and there were no duplicates.

It was up to the police to break in and, because of the location of the room, this was quite a task. It was the center room of a suite of five and could be entered only by passing through two of the others. After about thirty minutes' work access to the room was obtained, but the gamblers had left, and the police proceeded to seize the layout and take it to the station. The tables were all nearly new and in good condition, and they are worth several hundred dollars. Unless the owner calls for his goods they will be a valuable addition to the policemen's quarters at the station, and if anyone should claim them he will probably have to face the charge of running a gambling house.

AMUSEMENTS.

"Phinigan's Ball" drew two big and delighted audiences to the Grand yesterday afternoon and last night. The engagement runs through the balance of the week, with a matinee on Saturday.

"Corianton" comes to the Salt Lake theatre tonight for an engagement that will fill out the balance of the week, with a Saturday matinee.

WANT A PIANO.

The piano benefit exercises at the Grant school on Friday afternoon and evening promise to be of more than ordinary interest. All of the four drills to be given will be in costume. The program will be brief and spirited. The remainder of the time will be devoted to refreshments and amusements. Some of the leading business houses of the city have contributed much to the success of the enterprise.

WOUNDED IN THE ARM.

Paris, April 1.—The brother of Mile. Emma Tourist was wounded in the forearm today in a duel fought with M. Marcel Prevost, the novelist, at Neuilly.

Mile. Tourist fired two shots from a revolver Monday at M. Prevost. Her brother later sent his seconds to Mr. Prevost.

TORTURING DISFIGURING

Skin, Scalp and Blood Humours

From Pimples to Scrofula From Infancy to Age

Speedily Cured by Cuticura When All Else Fails.

The agonizing itching and burning of the skin, as in Eczema, the frightful scaling, as in psoriasis; the loss of hair and crusting of the scalp, as in scalded head; the facial disfigurements, as in acne and ringworm; the awful suffering of infants, and anxiety of worried parents, as in milk crust, tetter and salt rheum—all demand a remedy of almost superhuman virtues to successfully cope with them.

That Cuticura Soap, Ointment and Resolvent are such stands proven beyond all doubt. No statement is made regarding them that is not justified by the strongest evidence. The purity and sweetness, the power to afford immediate relief, the certainty of speedy and permanent cure, the absolute safety and great economy, have made them the standard skin cures, blood purifiers and humors remedies of the civilized world.

Bathe the affected parts with hot water and Cuticura Soap, to cleanse the surface of crusts and scales and soften the thickened cuticle. Dry, without rubbing, and apply Cuticura Ointment freely, to allay itching, irritation and inflammation, and soothe and heal, and, lastly, take Cuticura Resolvent to cool and cleanse the blood. This complete local and constitutional treatment affords instant relief, permits rest and sleep in the severest forms of eczema and other itching, burning and scaly humors of the skin, scalp and blood, and points to a speedy, permanent and economical cure when all else fails.

Sold throughout the world. Cuticura Resolvent, 50c (in form of Chocolate Coated Pills, 25c per vial of 60). Ointment, 25c. Soap, 25c. Boxes: London, 7, Chandlers Row; Paris, 5, Rue de la Paix; Boston, 157, Columbus ave. Porter Drug & Chem. Corp., Sole Proprietors.
